

AEROBICS INSTRUCTOR

Come on now, folks, on your feet - all of you.. Let's have some real strutting going on now while you warm up, and feel free to sing along if you want to.

(Ad lib some stretching exercises)

DRUNK

He appears on staging hugging a bottle of champagne and singing "On The Street Where You Live" from "My Fair Lady". He sees Maggie & Yvonne.

DRUNK Wow - look at you.

Theatrically bows

MAGGIE I've never been serenaded before.

YVONNE I feel like a princess

DRUNK And may I say that you look like a princess.

What divine costumes you are wearing ladies, and all matching too! Let me guess, are you in the chorus line of a West End Show?

YVONNE No such luck I'm afraid.

MAGGIE We're walking the Moonwalk

DRUNK The Moonwalk, Sounds like a truly celestial event. How far have you come?

MAGGIE About 11 miles so far, we're doing the half marathon so we've only got a couple of miles to go now.

YVONNE It's to raise money for a breast cancer charity.

DRUNK Well done, well done. Well - that of course explains that wonderful display of your womanly charms, does it not?

May I say that you are a veritable feast for this man's eyes. (He bows theatrically)
